Who we are: At the Essex County Probation Department our goal is to effect positive change in juvenile offenders placed on probation and diversion services by holding them accountable and facilitating their rehabilitation through collaborative approach with other service and treatment providers, while simultaneously promoting public safety.

What we do: At Essex County Probation, we have one juvenile Probation Officer that supervises youth in Essex County that have been charged with a crime. Specifically, through our Juvenile Delinquent Diversion program we are able to work collaboratively with schools, parents, and service providers to offer solutions to behaviors that include substance use, truancy, runaway and incorrigible behaviors. Additionally, if a PINS (Person in Need Of Supervision) is placed on Probation through the Family Court system, our department also supervises that Youth.

What services we provide: Juvenile Delinquent Diversion & Probation; PINS Probation
